TedsWoodworking: What $67 Gets You, and What It Does Not

By the Akacen Media Editorial Desk - 9 November 2026 - facts re-checked 9 November 2026

OUR VERDICT

A sensible buy if you build from written plans, and a poor one if you want video lessons. The product page states a $67 one-time price, no monthly fees and a 60-day money-back guarantee.

Who it is for and who should skip it

Best for: Builders who work from cut lists and drawings

Best for: Weekend makers who want one searchable plan library

Best for: Anyone tired of incomplete free plans

Skip if: You want video-led lessons first

Skip if: You only build one or two projects a year

Skip if: You will not read a cut list before cutting

The library is a plan source, not a safety course. It assumes you can already make basic, safe cuts. The 150 videos are a bonus, not the product.

Pros and cons

PROS

+ $67 one-time payment, no monthly fees
+ 60-day money-back guarantee, requested by email
+ 16,000+ plans in a searchable members area
+ Cut lists and materials lists, per the vendor
+ Free monthly plans and a free custom plan request

CONS

- A plan library, not a course
- Plan counts and the build-and-test claim are the vendor's own
- Shipped USB or DVD copies cost extra; the amount is not shown
- The page shows no star rating, so we show none
- Terms are set by the merchant and can change

What is inside the library

The product page lists these items. The values are the vendor's own figures, not independent prices.

Item	Vendor-stated value
All 16,000+ projects with drawings, cutting and materials lists	$297
Lifetime searchable members area	included
Lifetime free monthly plans	$39 per month value
Free custom plan request	$250
Bonus: DWG and CAD plan viewer	$47
Bonus: 150 premium woodworking videos	$77
Bonus: How To Start A Woodworking Business	$27
Bonus: Complete Woodworking Guides	$39

The page states a total value of $749 plus $39 a month. Only $67 leaves your account.

How it compares

Three common ways to get plans. Prices for other sources vary by seller, so we show no invented numbers.

Option	Price	Guarantee	Format
TedsWoodworking	$67 one-time	60-day money-back, by email	Digital library, optional shipped copies
Free woodworking plans	$0	Not applicable	One plan per site, quality varies
Single paid plan downloads	Set by each seller	Set by each seller	One plan at a time

Free plans are enough for simple projects and occasional builders. The paid library earns its price only if you build often and want complete cut lists in one place.

A fair test inside the guarantee window

Pick one project you will build this month. Print its cut list and materials list, buy exactly what the list says, then build it. If the list matched the build, the library did its job.

Price and package

Prices as printed on the product page on 9 November 2026. The merchant can change them at any time.

LIFETIME PLAN LIBRARY

$67 one-time

No monthly fees. Instant digital access, 16,000+ plans, four bonuses.

STANDARD MEMBERSHIP

$39 per month

The vendor's stated standard membership price, shown for comparison. The $67 offer replaces it with a single payment.

OPTIONAL SHIPPED COPIES

A physical USB drive or DVDs can be shipped for a small extra fee. The amount is not shown on the page, so ask before ordering.

Guarantee: 60 days. Email the seller and ask for your money back. The page says no questions are asked.

Retailer: ClickBank is named on the page as the retailer. Customer service is the seller's responsibility.

Your 3-step test

Treat the first 60 days as an evaluation, not a honeymoon.

1

Pick one project

Choose something you will build anyway: a bench, a shelf, a simple outdoor table. Search the members area for it first.

2

Build from the lists

Print the cut list and materials list. Buy exactly what it says and cut everything before you assemble.

3

Decide by day 50

If the list matched the build, keep the library. If not, email the seller before day 60 with your order number.

Decision checklist

Check	What good looks like
Does the plan include a cut list?	Yes, every part has a length and a quantity.
Did the materials list match the build?	Yes, you made no extra lumber trips.
Did you avoid measuring from a photo?	Yes, the drawings were fully dimensioned.

Six quick answers

Is it a subscription?

No. The page states a $67 one-time purchase with no monthly fees.

What guarantee is offered?

60 days. You email the seller and ask for a refund. The page says refunds are issued within 48 hours.

Who is the retailer?

ClickBank is named on the product page as the retailer.

Can a beginner use it?

Plans include measurements and cut lists, but they assume basic, safe cutting skills.

Does the page show a star rating?

No, so this report shows none.

Is this page an affiliate recommendation?

Yes. We may earn a commission if you buy through our links, at no extra cost to you.

Final verdict and next step

TedsWoodworking suits people who build from written plans and want one searchable library for a single $67 payment. If that is you, the 60-day guarantee makes a real test cheap.

If you want video lessons, or you build once a year, free plans are the better value.
